

FINDING LUCINDA

"This film explores the struggles artists have with worthiness and fear, and it's also a nod to one of the greatest American songwriters of all times, Lucinda Williams. A must see for Lucinda fans and anyone who is interested in the emotional challenges of an artist figuring out if they should commit their life to their art."

- Mary Gauthier

"This unique film will not only appeal to Lucinda Williams fans everywhere, it will appeal to anyone struggling to find their own identity through their art."

- Chuck Prophet

In search of a creative path, singer-songwriter ISMAY (Avery Hellman) sets off on a road trip of discovery, tracing the roots of music icon Lucinda Williams.

Featuring: Charlie Sexton, Buddy Miller, Mary Gauthier

Documentary Film Runtime: 60 minutes

ISMAY uncovers Lucinda's earliest recorded songs tucked away in a studio vault

Director: Joel Fendelman (Man on Fire, Remittance, Game Night, David)

Director of Photography: Rose Bush, (Academy-Award-winning documentary Colette)

Producer: Liz McBee (Upcoming Red For Revolution, Hi, I'm Nancy Rubin, Burning The Village)

Executive Producer: Alan Berg (Richard Linklater: Dream is Destiny, Sire Doug and the Genuine Texas Cosmic Groove, The Jones Family Will Make a Way)

View Trailer

Media Contact: Kate Richardson | Kate@RichlynnGroup.com